May We Recommend...

Welcome to a Reformed Church by Daniel Hyde is a great book for explaining what Reformed churches believe and why their worship and life is structured the way it is. It's a great book for people new to the Reformed faith (or those that have been there for a while!) to read to explain the history of the Reformed churches, the scriptural basis for their beliefs, as well as how those beliefs are put into practice. Highly recommended for anyone.

Songs of Praise (Books 1 and 2) by Jocelin Van Es are books of music for beginning and intermediate piano players. They have a selection of Psalms and Hymns from the Book of Praise arranged to be played solo or as a duet. A great book for those learning to play the piano who want to play some of the songs we sing in church! These can be found in the children's section, but are useful for everyone.

Come Back, Barbara by C John Miller and Barbara Juliani is a book by a father and daughter about Barbara's time rejecting the faith and turning away from God. It's an incredibly honest and vulnerable account which reads both as a great story as well as a useful resource for parents facing the same heartache. Highly recommended for anyone!

A Hunger for God by John Piper is a fantastic resource on the topic of fasting and prayer. "If we don't feel strong desires for the manifestation of the glory of God, it is not because you have drunk deeply and are satisfied. It is because we have nibbled so long at the table of the world. Our soul is stuffed with small things, and there is no room for the great." An easy read, but one sure to challenge you in many ways, Highly recommended.

We finally have Knowing God by J. I. Packer! It's a classic meant to be read over and over again, so whether you've already read it, or you haven't even heard of it, this one is worth checking out today!

Thank you everyone for the donation of books! I appreciate the interest in the library, and love seeing people reading. If you'd like a recommendation for a good book to read, or you know of a good book that you would love to see in the library, let me know!
